

Crossword No. 202

by Ian P. Hudson

1		2		3		4		5		6		7
8
9								10
11		12					13					14
16						17				18
19				20
22								23

Across

- 1 Bouquet sent with note to Italian metropolis. (5)
- 4 Wartime prisoner heading away from French miniature railway describing snow resembling sugar, perhaps. (7)
- 8 Moan amusingly about showing generosity of spirit. (13)
- 9 Little Ronald, displaying gold, appears around Delaware performing a repetitive mediaeval song. (7)
- 10 Havoc and disorder in showcase after departure of Wes. (5)
- 11 Servant has means of access at last, after shortage (with a thousand missing). (6)
- 13 Shock treatment after a very loud emotional response observed. (6)
- 16 Boiled milk at just the right temperature for an Austrian painter. (5)
- 17 Small American car providing stimulus reminds speaker what to say next. (7)
- 19, 23 "A dabbler can pry kelp off rocks for supper but I'd prefer this fruit mix in my pie!" (10, 3, 5)
- 22 Rogue leers at Ophelia's brother. (7)
- 23 See 19.

Down

- 1 Damn liar, no no! Confound it, that's a senior service senior! (7)
- 2 Play rag on broken instrument? (5)
- 3 A team bent — yes! bent — on eliminating a nuisance. (9)
- 4 Strait-laced, we took a camping stove to cook on. (6)
- 5 Which person is the doctor (3)
- 6 Restricted avenue after lens broken can disfranchise a person. (7)
- 7 Initially you're on your own so kill time with one of these toys when the market fluctuates. (5)
- 10 Somewhere to get a meal at a village feast in a place in ancient south west Asia Minor. (9)
- 12 Typical weather; and kitty's splashed with lager mixer. (7)
- 14 Muddle related to machine driven by foot. (7)
- 15 When discord scares, try affectionate stroking. (6)
- 16 If you balk in confusion, imagine how they feel in the war zone: capital! (5)
- 18 Hold tight! 100 friends are around! (5)
- 20 Equipment for a young fox? (3)